

DRAWS AGE LINE FOR POSTOFFICES

RESIDENT SEEKS INFUSION OF YOUNG, VIGOROUS BLOOD IN POSTAL SERVICE.

FIFTY YEARS IS DEAD LINE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—"Wanted young men for postmasters who will guarantee in writing that they will work at the job. Old men need not apply."

The first notice in the history of the government drawing the age line on applicants for postoffices was sent today to Indiana members of Congress. Every Indiana representative received a letter from Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general, in which he says:

"I am directed by the postmaster general to request that you furnish the files of this department all persons in your possession touching the suitability of persons whose names have been, or will be, recommended by you for postmasters. These papers should indicate the character, occupation and age of each person recommended, and furnish the signature of the applicant, and assurance that if appointed, he will give the service his personal attention."

When members of the Indiana delegation sought the postmaster general's interpretation of this rule they learned some facts which surprised them. They were informed that the president intends to appoint clean young men or at least, men who have reached the scar and yellow time of life.

The word "age" is inserted in the rule advisedly, as the President proposes to bring about an infusion of young, vigorous blood in the postal service of the country. Several of the Indiana representatives will have to revise their lists of proposed recommendations because of this age feature. In one district an applicant for a presidential postoffice is over 50 years old.

The Hoosier members of Congress under the impression that the President, as a general proposition, will consider applicants "sterilized" who are over fifty and will try to recruit service from men who are around thirty, although, of course, it will be necessary to make exceptions in certain cases.

The Roper notice also is highly significant as showing that the President will desire other evidences of the suitability of applicants other than the mere recommendation of a member of Congress. Another novel requirement is that making the aspirant sign an application for the position he seeks and agree that he will give his personal attention to the duties.

Nothing even remotely resembling a set of requirements ever has been laid by any former administration. Complaint has been rather common that postmasters have given but scant personal attention to their office, in many cases being absent from their posts of duty for weeks at a time. All this the Wilson administration proposes to change.

Members of the Indiana delegation on this afternoon to send letters to postoffice aspirants whom they intend to recommend, advising them that they must prepare and forward applications in writing, attaching thereto their personal promise that they will stay "on the job" if appointed.

FISHERMEN, NOTICE! HERE'S THAT NEW STATE FISH LAW.

House bill 122 (chapter 147) approved March 8, is a new fish law. A commissioner of fisheries and game in several lakes of the state of "state breeding grounds" to be marked by appropriate signs, and forbids fishing and the taking of fish in any such breeding grounds between March 20 and July 1, of each year, under penalty of a fine of from $5 to $25 for each fish caught or pursued. But digging marl for manufacturing purposes is not prohibited. Fishing with "any trolling" having hooks smaller than 6-0 Kirby, or with any kind attached to any bottle or to any floating device whatever, in any waters except the Ohio river, Lake Michigan, the Wabash river, so far as it is a state boundary line, is punishable by fine of from $5 to $50. Catching or having in possession more than fifty bluegills, sunfish or crappies or more than twelve bass in any one day, is forbidden, and two or more persons fishing together shall not take more than twenty bass, though owners of private ponds are not restricted in taking fish from them. The penalty for violating this provision is a fine of from $5 to $25 for each fish in excess of the number allowed. Permitting refuse to drain into a stream and poison the fish is made punishable by a fine of from $50 to $1,000 for each day the violation continues. Killing fish by electricity or by any mechanical device, snafhook or crapping hook, is punishable by a fine of from $10 to $50 for each fish taken excepting carp, garfish, dogfish, and suckers, but snafhooks may be used to land a fish, hooked on a legal hook and line. The transportation of game fish beyond the limits of the state is forbidden unless they are taken from a private pond or are carried openly for inspection by the person who caught them. A fine of $10 for each fish unlawfully taken out of the state is imposed.

LUCIEN TENNANT COMMITS SUICIDE.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 22.—Lucien D. Tennant, aged 25 years, of Terre Haute, Ind., a first year student in the Harvard graduate school, was found dead with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver lying beside him on the West Boston bridge today.

The medical examiner reported that he was undoubtedly a suicide. Tennant graduated from DePauw university last year. He had been ill several weeks.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 22.—Lucien D. Tennant was the son of Attorney R. S. Tennant, of 824 South Fifth street, Terre Haute.

Friends here were inclined to question the suicide theory. Mr. Tennant held a responsible position with Boston Y. M. C. A. and it was believed here that he might have been murdered for money.

He was a graduate of the Wiley high school and won the scholarship while attending DePauw university.

Dr. S. B. Towne, financial secretary of DePauw university, was in communication with Mr. Tennant's father at Terre Haute late Tuesday night. Mr. Tennant said that his son, Maurice, who is in Indianapolis, received a message from a personal friend of Lucien's Tuesday evening. Mr. Tennant's friends in Cambridge place no credence in the suicide theory. They believe the young man was shot down by robbers.

The body will be brought to Terre Haute and will be accompanied by school-mates of young Tennant.

The news of the tragic death of young Tennant greatly affected his many friends here. His friends here also have little sympathy with the idea of suicide, especially in regard to the love affair of the theory.

Mr. Tennant was a nephew of Mrs. John R. Miller and Joseph Donohue of this town. His grandmother, Mrs. William Tennant, lived here for many years.

House Damaged by Fire.

The home of Mrs. Robert Williams, on West Madison street just north of Liberty street was slightly damaged by fire about 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. The roof over the kitchen burned and the walls scorched. The fire started from a defective flue. It is believed. The loss will not amount to over $100, and is covered by insurance.

PUTNAM COUNTY IS GIVEN BOOST

FOURTEENTH BIENNIAL REPORT OF STATE DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS GIVES GOOD SKETCH OF CITY'S HISTORY.

NOTED FOR GOOD CATTLE

The following interesting sketch, which is a good boost for Greencastle and Putnam county, appeared in the fourteenth biennial report of the state now being distributed:

"Putnam county, popularly known as the Blue Grass County of Indiana, was created by the Legislature December 31, 1821. It comprises 486 square miles, or 311,040 acres, and is the fifteenth county in area in the state. Its principal stream, Walnut Creek, traverses the county in a southwestwardly direction and just before passing into Clay County is joined by Deer and Mill creeks and thus forms Eel River. The surface of the land in the northern half of the county is generally level but south of Greencastle, the country is hilly and undulating and, in some cases, hilly and precipitous. The soil is known as a rich calcareous loam or clay, especially adapted to grain or grass and, in the south and west parts admirably suited to the profitable cultivation of apples, peaches, pears and small fruits. Three railways cross the county from east to west and one from north to south.

"The principal towns outside of Greencastle are Roachdale, Cloverdale, Russellville, Bainbridge and Fillmore. There are over eight hundred miles of improved or macadamized roads within the limits of the county. In the western part are encroachment of coal, but the strata average only about three feet in thickness and thus far it has never been found profitable to mine it. In two other items, however, Putnam County is greatly in the lead of other counties—live stock and limestone rock. Its preeminence in the development of live stock dates from 1853 when the late Dr. Alexander C. Stevenson visited England and succeeded in bringing across the Atlantic from that country several head of redpoll, short horns and Durham cattle, the first of the kind to reach this part of the country. From this modest beginning have sprung the many valuable strains of cattle for which the county has long been noted. Blue grass, which grows so luxuriantly and in such abundance is indigenous to the soil and is well known, has no equal as a food with which to fatten stock. The result is Putnam County cattle being firm in flesh, the meat rich and fine flavored, usually bring the top prices in the stock markets. The limestone rock which underlies the soil in the central and southern parts of the county has no equal as a surfacing material for roadways. It exists in incalculable quantities, test wells having been driven three hundred feet without finding the bottom of the strata. Two companies have opened quarries near Greencastle and are busy throughout the year crushing stone. They have a combined capacity of 20,000 cars per annum and ship their product to every part of the country.

"Two miles south of Greencastle, near Limerdale, are McLean's Springs, the waters of which are highly saturated with certain minerals salts whose chemical properties render them highly efficacious in cases of impaired indigestion and effections of the kidneys.

"DePauw university, one of the most noted institutions of learning west of the Alleghanies, is located in Greencastle. Its curriculum compares favorably with like institutions in New York and the New England States. Its first president was the late Bishop Simpson, and three of his successors, Thos. Bowman, Edwin H. Hughes and Francis J. McConnell, have likewise been elevated to the episcopate in the Methodist church. It was founded in 1837 and its alumnal roll contains the names of such men as Daniel W. Voorhees, Albert G. Porter, Newton Booth, John Clark Ridpath and Albert J. Beveridge."

BRAZIL PAPER SAYS RANDEL WILL MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Congressman Ralph W. Moss left Sunday night for Washington, D. C., after a conference Sunday with District Chairman Randel and A. J. Hamrick, Putnam county chairman, and it is likely that the recommendations for the Greencastle and the Brazil postmasters will be officially made today or tomorrow. The announcement will be made through Mr. Randel.

Mr. Moss sails from New York on Friday for Rome, Italy, where he will attend an international convention for the study of rural credit system of the European countries. Of the committee of seven senators and congressman, five will make the trip to Europe and after the convention will visit various capitals of the countries of that continent.

The recent order of President Wilson setting fifty years as the age limit for postmasters to be appointed, is interesting. The postmasters will also be compelled to sign a statement that they will give their time to the office, and the idea is to get live, young men in the respective offices. Edward Scheutz, who is to be the Brazil postmaster, is not affected by the order, being under half century old.—Brazil Times.

Insanity Inquest.

An insanity inquest was held over Robert Smith, who lives near Barnaby's mill, at the office of Dr. W. M. McGaughey last Wednesday. The inquest was held by Esquire Ashton and Dr. McGaughey and Dr. Tucker, together with Dr. Charles Sudranski, the attending physician, made the examination. Smith has caused the residents of his neighborhood considerable trouble during the past few weeks.

Smith was found to be insane and will be taken to the asylum in the near future.

MOSS GOES BACK TO WASHINGTON

CONGRESSMAN, AFTER SPENDING TWO DAYS IN HIS DISTRICT, RETURNS TO CAPITOL, WITHOUT ANNOUNCING POSTOFFICE DECISION.

LEAVES FOR EUROPE FRIDAY

After spending two days in his district, Congressman Ralph W. Moss, left for Washington Monday without making any announcement regarding the Brazil or Greencastle postoffice recommendations.

The congressman arrived home Saturday night. He came to make a decision in the Greencastle and Brazil postoffice questions.

Upon his arrival in Brazil, however, he learned of the newspaper reports that the postoffice department had placed an age limit upon postmasters, and had ordered other requirements for applicants. This caused the congressman to change his plans and he left for Washington Monday. The announcement will be made from Washington later.

District Chairman James L. Randel and County Chairman Arthur Hamrick met the congressman in Brazil Sunday and discussed the situation with him.

Congressman Moss will leave Washington Friday for New York, from where he will sail on Saturday for Europe where he will spend several weeks in investigating the rural credit systems of the foreign countries. He, no doubt, will announce his recommendations for Brazil and Greencastle, before he leaves Washington.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

Mrs. Lella A. Dale is Given Legal Separation from August M. Dale —Other Court Notes.

Mrs. Lella A. Dale, of Roachdale, has been granted a divorce from August M. Dale, the decree being given on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Dale is given the custody of the couple's five children.

The J. C. Torr company has filed an amended complaint in its case against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway company.

In the case of J. F. Hite against Susan Peffley and Roscoe Peffley, the plaintiff has been given a judgment in the sum of $101.65.

Circuit Court Notes.

A change of venue from Judge Hughes has been asked in the case of Agnes Elliott against the Vandalla Coal company and William T. Ray. The case is the one in which attorneys for the coal company asked that Mrs. Elliott's attorney, Thomas R. Hutchison, of Brazil, be barred from participating in the trial. Judge Hughes overruled the motion and now the coal company asks for a special judge for the trial.

The quiet title suit of Milton McAninch and Julia McAninch against the Jefferson school township and the trustee, Oliver Stringer, was tried this morning and a judgment made in favor of the plaintiffs. The case was not contested.

The trial of the suit of the Ladoga Canning company against the Bainbridge Canning company probably will be finished Friday. William Oliver, assistant manager of the Ladoga plant and the third witness to be examined, was on the stand this afternoon.

CRAWFORDSVILLE G. O. P. AND MOOSERS CAN'T AGREE

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 15.—If any doubt remained as to the inability of local Republicans and Progressives to get together on a municipal ticket in the impending city campaign, such doubt finally was dispersed after a meeting, held last night in the old Y. M. C. A., had adjourned. At this time there is "nothing doing" between the G. O. P. and Bull Moose as far as combining forces on a local ticket is concerned and the prospects are that the "nothing doing" sign will continue to hang out until after the election next fall.

The meeting last night was called in a final effort to patch up what already looked like a hopeless case. There still were those among the Republicans and Bull Moose who thought that a working armistice could be arranged. But right off the bat all the plans of the fervid non-partisans were shattered to bits.

City Attorney Chase Harding, representing the G. O. P. organization, was the spokesman for the Republicans, and two points on which he insisted made it evident at once that all amalgamation bets were off. In brief, this is what Mr. Harding told the Progressives:

That the Republicans would stand for no ticket that was not labelled, plainly and unmistakably, with the brand of the G. O. P. In other words, the ticket must be known as the "Republican" ticket before the organization of that party would consent to get behind it.

Also that the Republicans should dictate the nominations of the larger part of the ticket and that a slate, which already had been prepared, should go through as the Republican part of the non-partisan affair.

The conference lasted until nearly 10 o'clock, but it might as well have been adjourned soon after Mr. Harding had delivered the G. O. P. ultimatum. The Progressives who were present and authorized to act for their party, would listen to no such arrangement as that offered by the Republicans. The result was that last night's meeting made no more progress than the half dozen or so other conferences which have been held between these factions.

When asked last night if the conference was a final one, a prominent Progressive expressed his belief that it was and that the Republicans would now go ahead and place its own ticket in the field regardless of Bull Moose plans. The Progressives are somewhat undecided as to what they will do.

With the failure of the G. O. P. Progressive non-partisan scheme, gossip about prospective candidates took on a lively salt last night. Within the past week or so Fred Huggins, member of the electric light commission, has come forward strongly as the probable Republican choice for mayor and predictions were made last night that he would be nominated. Others who have been mentioned are Dumont M. Peck, who also is being seriously considered; Dumont Kennedy, Clifford Voris and Pete Swan.

Obituary.

Kathryn Frazier, daughter of Canaan and Lizzie Frazier, was born in Kentucky, June 9, 1837, and departed this life March 25, 1913, being at the time of her death seventy-six years, and nine months old.

She was the oldest child of nine children, six sons and three daughters. At the early age of fifteen she was married to Abner Cox of the same place. To this union was born fourteen children, eight having preceded her, with their father to the great beyond.

With her husband family she came to Indiana and settled in Hendricks and Putnam counties and has lived the remainder of her life near this city.

In 1873 she joined the Methodist church at Putnamville, and has lived a true and faithful Christian life, always willing and ready to help those who needed her.

In 1891 her husband died and she was left with her family of children to fight the battles of life. She was a dutiful wife, a loving sister and an affectionate mother. Her heart was in her home and always had a cheery smile or hearty welcome for those who daily sought her door. To know her was to love her.

Although our hearts are broken, and our eyes are dim with tears, we would not wish to call her back. Yes, there is another missing link in our home, which never can be filled. Aunt Hattie, as she was familiarly known, is not dead but sleeping. Her trials and sufferings are over and she has answered the call of our Heavenly Father, which we all have to answer. Although she is gone, we will not forget her, but prepare our lives so as to meet her on that glad meeting day.

She leaves to mourn her departure, four sons and two daughters; also, three brothers and two sisters, and a host of relatives and friends. Her sons are as follows: John, James, Henry and Charles, with whom she made her home; Mrs. Cordelia Rockhill and Mrs. Eva Sears. Her brothers are: Thomas Frazier, Nelson Frazier of Brazil and Ellick Frazier of near Fern. The funeral took place Friday at eleven o'clock at the home of her son John; burial was in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Obituary.

Anna E. Stacy, daughter of James and Jane Stacy, was born in Lyon county, Kentucky, Feb. 8th, 1857. She was married to Charles W. Fry May 1st, 1880, and came to Indiana in 1882, where she spent the remainder of her life. She died April 2nd, 1913, at the home of her daughter, Miss Oscar Williams on Bloomington street. Besides a husband she leaves four children to mourn her loss: Albert, Walter, Mrs. Oscar Williams of this city, and Mrs. Clarence Lounsberry of Muncie. She was a member of the Fox Ridge church, where the funeral was held on April 4th at 2:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Beard, pastor of the Christian church.

SETTLEMENT REACHED IN HUGHES DIVORCE CASE.

A settlement has been reached in the divorce suit of Jesse D. Hughes against Hazel Hughes and in a few days an entry on the court docket will show that Mr. Hughes has been granted the decree. There will be no trial. Although the entry has not yet been made attorneys interested in the case stated this morning that a full agreement had been reached and that the agreement is satisfactory to both the plaintiff and defendant.

Mr. Hughes will get the decree and the custody of the couple's two children during the greater part of the time. Mrs. Hughes will have the children for a few months each year. Mrs. Hughes, it is said, will leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crews, the first part of next week for Greenville, Miss. She will make her future home with her parents in Greenville. A financial settlement, the particulars of which were not made public, has been made. Albee James is Mr. Hughes's attorney, and Hays & Murphy represent Mrs. Hughes.

ONE KILLED AND TWO INJURED IN WRECK.

One man was killed and two others were injured at 11:12 o'clock Wednesday night when a passenger train on the Louisville division of the Pennsylvania lines "sideswiped" a freight train at the Southern avenue crossing, Indianapolis.

The dead: John Yunker, engineer on the passenger train, Jeffersonville, Ind.; crushed; believed to have been killed instantly.

The injured: William Ehringer, fireman on the passenger train, Speeds, Ind.; back, legs and ankles hurt.

The collision was due to the fact that an 18-year-old fireman, who had been left in charge of the freight locomotive, pulled his train so near the opening of a switch at Southern avenue that the locomotive ran off a derail and leaned so far toward the main track that it was struck by the oncoming passenger train. The freight train was standing on the siding, awaiting the passing of the passenger train, and the fireman said he did not notice how near his locomotive was to the switch opening until it was too late to avert the collision.

Both locomotives were thrown into the ditch by the force of the crash, but in spite of the violence of the impact none of the passengers on the inbound train was injured so far as the police were informed, more than suffering a severe shaking up.

DePauw Seniors Make Their Debut.

One hundred and forty seniors made their appearance in caps and gowns at chapel on Thursday. Forming in two columns in the corridor of the basement, men and women alternating in order the seniors waited until ten minutes after ten, then marched up to Meharry Hall. Keeping step to the music of the new senior song they took their places on the chapel platform and sang the song while standing there. The music of the song was composed by Lois Hiff and Dorin K. Autrim. The words were written by Edna Irwin and Ambler Garnett.

SUIT INVOLVES TITANIC HORROR.

Mrs. John B. Crafton, of Roachdale, has brought suit against the Oceanic Steamship company for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, who lost his life on April 15, 1912 when the Titanic sank off the coast of Newfoundland. Mrs. Crafton was the only passenger from Indiana on the ill-fated vessel. He was a passenger conductor on the Monon railroad thirty years ago and later became trainmaster and made his headquarters in Lafayette. William L. Taylor, of Indianapolis, ex-attorney general, represents Mrs. Crafton. The attorneys for the people who have sued the steamship company claim that the insurance paid for the loss of the vessel is salvage and should be used to pay the death claims.

WIFE DESERTER IS ARRESTED HERE.

Frank Blizzard, a Winchester man, was arrested at the Big Four station on Thursday by W. C. Brinkley, a Winchester detective, who had a warrant for Blizzard's arrest on the charge of wife desertion. The detective lodged Blizzard in jail and took him back to Winchester on the Big Four this afternoon.

Blizzard left Winchester last Sunday, shipping his goods over the Big Four and billing them for this city. He is said to have told his wife, who was about to become a mother, that he was tired of her and that he did not intend to return. The Winchester authorities took the matter up. They found that Blizzard had shipped his goods to this city and the detective was sent here.

The detective inquired at the station and found that Blizzard's goods had not yet arrived. He waited at the station and in only a few minutes Blizzard came also inquiring about the arrival of his goods. The detective accosted Blizzard, who readily admitted his identity.

Blizzard put on a bold front and told the detective that he would file suit against the Winchester authorities for taking the action. After thinking the matter over in jail for a few hours, however, Blizzard broke down and cried, admitting that he had done wrong. Wife desertion is punishable by a sentence of one year in the penitentiary.

Evans-Sellers.

Miss Susie Seller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seller of this city, and Edward E. Evans, son of John W. Evans of Greencastle, were married at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents in this city. Rev. Bert DeWitt Beck, pastor of Locust Street M. E. church, officiated. The family and a few near friends were present to witness the plighting of the vows of the two young people.

The bridal pair entered the ceremony room together preceded by Rev. Beck to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ruth Curtis, a cousin of the bride. After congratulations, refreshments were served, consisting of white brick cream with a heart in red, bride's cake, fruit cake and fruit ice. The bride wore a simple gown of white, trimmed in shadow lace and satin, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The ceremony room was beautifully decorated in cut flowers and potted plants. The gifts were numerous and beautiful, including a large quantity of china, silver and cut glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans left for the home of the groom, south of town. The bride's going away gown was of blue and brown changeable silk.

Mrs. Evans graduated from Greencastle high school in 1908 and attended the DePauw School of Music for several years. Mr. Evans attended the DePauw Academy and is now a promising young farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hughes are the parents of a son, born Sunday.

VANDALIA TRAINS HALTED

Settling of End of Terre Haute Bridge is Quickly Remedied.

Although the west approach of the Vandalia Railroad bridge was known to be in a doubtful condition, and was expected to sink some, it did not happen until Sunday morning. The sinking had been prepared for and early in the evening it was safe for traffic again. Ten trains were stopped by the trouble and the passengers were transferred to and from the Union station and the trains on the interurban.—Terre Haute Star.

REV. REED SCORES SOCIETY DANCERS

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 18.—The Rev. C. Fenwick Reed of Greencastle, who is conducting a revival at the First M. E. church in this city, said in a sermon that the society dance is worse than the dance in the slums. Dancing, he asserted, is simply hugging to music. He declared that all churches condemn the dance, and he offered a reward of $1,000 for any genuine Christian in Columbus who dances and in whom the people have confidence. Dancing feet and praying knees do not go together, he said.

The high school dance was scored. Mr. Reed said young girls would make dates with "young roosters" who would appear "with their pants rolled up, cigarettes in their mouths and their hats awry." Some of these "roosters" he said "were no more than a suit of clothes with the man poured in." He said girls who go out riding with some dude in a "squeaky-me-tight" buggy on lonely country roads should be watched, and that their parents knew of their actions they would be heartbroken.

The minister said the idea that a high school course has to end with dance is preposterous. Some high school teachers, he said, took this as their last chance to embrace the girls before they go into the world. A delicate girl, he declared, would have twelve miles at night and at home would be too sickly to do any work. Scoring the modern dress of women the evangelist said the present fashions were immoral, back to the motherhood of the century to awaken. One of his statements was that women in evening clothes wear their collars under their arms.

Personal.

The new residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gardner on Park street, is nearing completion.

Mrs. H. C. Allen, Jr., and children, who have been visiting Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harding, at Crawfordsville, for the past three weeks, have returned home.

The bill posters for the Howe's circus which is to show here on the afternoon and evening of May 1 were here last Thursday posting bills. The show will be the first circus here for two years.

Mrs. Gertrude McCorkle, who has been here spending the winter with Dr. and Mrs. Hawkins returned to Staunton Thurs. Her mother, Mrs. S. J. Hawkins, will return to Staunton in about a week.

The Browning grocery store has not changed ownership, as was rumored. The rumor was to the effect that Mr. Browning had sold the business to C. V. Newman. Mr. Browning in a statement this afternoon, said he had not sold the store and that there had not and would not be a change in ownership.

The Monon Railroad company, according to local traffic officials, is now handling from 2,100 to 2,500 car loads of freight daily to all parts of its system. The speed restrictions placed at several points where the track was regarded as dangerous until repairs were made have been lifted and practically schedule time is being made.

DePauw went down to ignominious defeat before the State Normal baseball aggregation in a 7 to 3 game at Terre Haute Wednesday afternoon. The game was the third of the season for DePauw and was her first defeat. The defeat took the DePauw men off their feet, so to speak, as it was far from being expected. The Normalites also were surprised, having no expectations of winning.

The funeral services of Miss Hazel Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson were held at the home, near the Monon station, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. B. D. Beck, pastor of the Locust street church officiated. Burial was in the Forest Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were Charles Michael, John Swift, of Toledo, Ohio; Ben Davis, of Indianapolis; Harley Hill, of Indianapolis; Clyde Grimes and Virgil Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Martin gave a dinner party Friday noon. The dinner was a surprise to Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay B. Carver, and celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. James Cruchfield, Shelby McCormick, of Waveland; Mr. and Mrs. John Byrd, of Russellville; Mr. and Mrs. William Ramsey, of Crawfordsville; Mrs. Harry Dixon, of Mecca; and Mrs. Harry Everett Carver and Mrs. Mahala Allen. An interesting feature of the celebration was the bringing together of the guests of Waveland, Russellville and Crawfordsville, who were old neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Carver when they first went to housekeeping near Russellville and Mr. Spencer was Mr. Carver's best man at his marriage. The dinner also marked the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and when they arrived at their home in Waveland in the evening there awaited them forty guests to tender them a reception in honor of their silver anniversary.—Rockville Tribune.

The suit for divorce and alimony filed a few days ago by Mrs. Anna Martin against her husband, Harry B. Martin, former editor of the Crawfordsville Graphic Friday was dismissed. A written dismissal was filed by Mrs. Martin.

Guy A. Jones, a railway signal system worker, and Miss Sedalia Hanneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hanneman, were married Thursday night. Rev. L. A. Beard officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside here. Both the bride and groom have many friends in Greencastle.

Mrs. David Houck is critically ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lyon on Bloomington street. Mrs. Houck, who is 79 years old suffered a severe hemorrhage of the nose. Drs. Bence, Hawkins and King are attending her. James Houck, of Indianapolis, is here called by her illness.

The breaking of a water connection of a boiler at the Putnam Electric Light plant Friday morning caused a shut down for about thirty minutes. During that length of time the Greencastle business men who depend upon electricity to furnish their power were forced to suspend operations.

The mails were unusually heavy Friday and as a result of the city and rural route carriers were nearly weighed down with letters and papers. The parcel post delivery also was heavy. Richard Whelan, carrier on city route No. 2, took 126 pounds of letters and papers out on his route this morning. The carrier on route No. 1 took 108 pounds.

An inspection party composed of B. K. Rochester, division engineer and A. Coffin, master carpenter, stationed at Terre Haute and W. H. Kykritt, division superintendent, today started on an inspection tour over the Vandalla tracks between this city and Indianapolis, carefully examining the road bed, bridges, culverts, etc., to see that all are in an absolutely perfect condition following the recent storms. The worst damage, of course, was done to the tracks at West Indianapolis.

Among those here last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jeremiah O'Brien were: Mr. and Mrs. Flute McGillard, of Terre Haute; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Frey, of Indianapolis; John Marley Mr. and Mrs. John Kerr; Miss Mary Kerr and Miss Molly Carr, of Bloomington; Mrs. M. Carroll and seven children, of Hammond; Mrs. S. R. Contractor Francis Hawkins, who is preparing to construct the East National avenue road this spring now has a large force of men at work cutting down the historic old trees along the road and pulling out the stumps. The men are using a patent stump roller, but with all the modern appliances the task is a difficult one. The work on the road will begin just as soon as the weather permits and will be rushed to completion. For one-half a mile east of the brick pavement the street will be constructed of crushed rock with a Kentucky asphalt filler and will be the most expensive section of roadway in Clay county.—Brazil Times.

Mrs. Sarah Wood, of Clinton Falls, is here visiting County Recorder and Mrs. John Wood.

Mrs. Augusta Higert, of Indianapolis, is here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dar Barnaby.

Mrs. Morris Burks returned home Sunday afternoon from Crawfordsville, where, on Monday, she underwent an optical operation.

Quite a number of young folk gathered at the home of Miss Belle Skelton Sunday, April 13, to celebrate her nineteenth birthday anniversary. The guests brought their dinners. The morning was spent in social conversation and at 12 o'clock the bounteous dinner was enjoyed. The afternoon was spent in games and music. All left late in the evening, wishing Miss Skelton many more happy birthday anniversaries.

Frank Everhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Everhart, and Miss Maggie Shubert were married at Greencastle Wednesday afternoon. They came to Ladoga on the evening train and have gone to housekeeping at the N. G. Kessler farm. They had the home furnished and ready for housekeeping before they were married. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everhart attended the wedding—Ladoga News.

Col. Geo. C. Harvey was attacked by a fainting spell Monday morning and was confined to his home for several days. Mr. Harvey suffered an attack before leaving home that morning and another after arriving at the court room. A third and more severe attack was suffered after going to his office and he had to be removed to his home. He was very sick for a time but has about recovered.—Danville Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix T. McWhirter issued invitations early in the week for the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Ethel McWhirter Wise and Thomas C. Scoggins of Nashville, Tenn. which will take place Tuesday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock at the family home, 2330 College avenue. The at-home announcement is for Nashville after June 1. While the marriage will be quiet, a number of friends from Nashville, Greencastle and Crawfordsville will be present.—Indianapolis Star.

The damage suit of Dr. Charles T. Shattle of Stillersville against Dr. Emmett Davis of Plainfield, was compromised Friday. Under the terms of the compromise the defendant is to pay court costs and pay the plaintiff $270. The principals are veterinarians and several months ago had a fistie encounter at Indianapolis, where they were attending a convention of their profession. It is said they disagreed over the merits of vaccinating for hog cholera and the breach resulted in a battle. Shattle was badly battered up and later he brought suit for personal injuries.—Danville Gazette.

Not all the property owners in the great Eel River Valley in Clay county are satisfied that the proposed straightening and deepening the channel of the stream will bring the relief that is needed and it is stated today that remonstrances are being prepared by those opposing the proposal. The land owners effected who have been notified have ten days from last Friday in which to file their remonstrances and the others who have been made new parties will have ten days from May 29 and if they fail to state their objections within these dates, their opposition will be of no avail.—Brazil Times.

The case of Emrey Albertson against Perry R. Tulley, in which the former asks for $450 judgment on a bill, has been venued here from Hendricks county for trial.

Fred Thomas, of the Thomas Buggy Co., has sold to John Vestal of Plainfield, a horse buyer, the fine sorrel roadster Mr. Thomas purchased of Dr. R. J. Gillespie a few weeks ago. Mr. Thomas received $200 for the horse, which is an exceptionally fine animal.

A fire alarm was turned in from the home of Louie Stevens, on Elm street about 8 o'clock last Monday. Sparks from the chimney had fallen among leaves in the gutter, setting them afire. The flames had spread to the shingles, setting them fire. The blaze was extinguished with little loss.

George Raines, ex-county commissioner, has sold his 86-acre farm in Marion township, to Thomas Talbott for a consideration of $9,000. Mr. Talbott has sold his farm, consisting 40 acres, to county commissioner Jim Funten. Possession of the farms will be given their new owners September 1.

Clay county is contemplating building a county hospital, and at a meeting of the Clay County Medical Society, Saturday, resolutions favoring the project were adopted. The organization having the plan in hand has about $1,000, and it is believed the rest of the money needed could be quickly raised.

Mrs. J. M. Badger and her son, Glenn left Tuesday morning for Ft. Bayard, New Mexico, where they will visit Jessie Badger, who is lying low with consumption. Mrs. Badger will remain at Ft. Bayard two or three weeks. Glenn will go on in a few days to San Francisco and sail for Manila May 3.

L. A. Beard conducted a short service at the home of Thomas Mace, four miles southwest of this city Sunday. Mr. Mace, who is seventy-six years of age, confessed Christ and will be baptized as soon as he is able to get to the waters. Only one percent of the people who confess Christ confess him after they reach the age of forty years. Three elderly people have made their confession in the last few months: Aunt Sarah Angel, eighty years old; Robert Smith, fifty-six years old; Thomas Smith, seventy-six years old.

According to a report sent to the police Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Limesdale was a rather lively little city. The report was to the effect that several Limesdaleites were intoxicated and that they were disturbing the entire town. Sheriff Boes and Policeman Stone procured an automobile and hurried to the town. The rioters had been warned, however, and all except one had disappeared. The one saw the officers just as they arrived and hurried to his home. The officers followed and arrived at the door just as the lock snapped. Having no warrant they did not break in the door. The man refused to open the door and so the officers returned empty handed.

The jury in the case of M. M. Bachelder, formerly of Ladoga, but for the last few years an attorney in Indianapolis, returned a verdict of $2,875 Saturday in the Boone county court. Mr. Bachelder sued the Indiana Union Traction company for $1,500, for injuries received in a collision between two interurban cars at Fortville, May 12, 1912. Mr. Bachelder visited friends in this city Thursday shortly after his case had been given to the jury. He stated that he had offered to compromise the case for $3,000. The company, however, insisted that $1,500 was enough. Mr. Bachelder is one of the attorneys in the case of the Ladoga Canning company against the Bainbridge Canning company.

Means Much to the People.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—An immediate cut of $300,000,000 in the cost of living—eventually a slash of half a billion! That is what the Democratic leaders of the House believe the income tax will do for the American people. The relief promised by the Democratic party for the terrible pressure of the costs of necessities of life seems to be at hand.

Only experience will reveal the full benefit to the public of the income tax. The annual saving over the counters of the nation's grocery stores, butcher shops and clothing emporium is expected ultimately to reach $500,000,000. Some of the more sanguine regard even this estimate as too conservative. The saving may reach $600,000, or even more.

The estimate is reached in this way:

From British income tax experience tables, the experts figure that the annual revenue to be derived from income taxation under the terms of the pending bill will be from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000. In writing the new tariff rates the Ways and Means Committee has taken cognizance of this probable revenue and has lopped off duties of necessities which under the present Payne-Aldrich law aggregate $50,000,000 annually. This $50,000,000, now paid by the people in the cost of living, is to be paid out of the income tax revenue.

But every dollar saved in tariff amounts to five or six dollars in the final retail prices paid by the consumer. This is because the many middlemen who handle an article from the stage of raw material to that of finished product each assesses as profit a certain percentage of the value of the commodity he handles. But in assessing this profit he includes the tariff in the value of the commodity. Thus the people pay not only the tariff but also pay profits on the tariff. Every dollar of increased price for the raw material assessed by the tariff becomes five or six dollars by the time it reaches the consumer.

Representative Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, the member of the Ways and Means Committee who drew the income tax provision, prophetically sees the day when all government revenue will be derived from just two principal forms of direct taxation—the income tax and the inheritance tax.

"The rates in the pending bill are but tentative," he said. "They can and will be changed by succeeding congresses."

"The measure is designed to fit in with the budget system of estimating government expenses. The day will come when government expenses will be appropriated for in an annual budget bill. On the basis of this the amount of revenue needed by the government for the succeeding year will be estimated. In order to raise just the revenue needed Congress will set the income tax to fit the case. There will be few customs duties. There will be, however, an inheritance tax to relieve some of the tax burden on incomes."

GROSE INSTALLED
AS DEPAUW'S HEAD

INAUGURAL EXERCISES HELD IN
MEHARRY HALL TODAY—PRES-
IDENT SPEAKS ON "THE TASK OF THE TASK OF MODERN EDU-CATION"—MANY VISITORS ARE ATTEND EVENTS.

RECEPTION THIS EVENING

George Richmond Grose was formally inaugurated president of DePauw university this morning. The formal installation of the eleventh president of the university was a most auspicious one.

At 10 o'clock the Academic procession formed in Minshall Laboratory and headed by the DePauw band marched to Meharry hall. Seats had been reserved for those in line. Long before the procession started all available seats in the hall were filled by citizens and visitors.

At 10:15 o'clock the four classes: freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, the last mentioned dressed in their caps and gowns, marched into the hall and took their places. They were followed by the university choir, which were seated at the east end of the platform. More than one hundred alumni, all garbed in the caps and gowns, followed the choir and took seats immediately in front of the students. Then came the DePauw faculty members, the guests of honor from other colleges, universities and institutions, all of who were seated on the platform.

President Grose the Honorable Charles W. Fairbanks, Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Vice-President H. A. Gobin, Hugh Dougherty and F. D. Bovard, editor of the California Christian Advocate, were seated on the front of the platform. Mr. Fairbanks was seated in the center with President Grose on his right and Mr. Dougherty on his left.

The Hon. Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indianapolis, trustee, ex-vice president of the United States, presided over the exercises.

After the singing of processional by the university choir the audience joined in singing "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." Freeman Daily Bovard, editor of the California Christian Advocate, lead in prayer. Responsive readings were then conducted by Thomas Nicholson, secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Vice-President Hillary Asbury Gobin presented the new president. He was followed by the Hon. Hugh Dougherty of Indianapolis, who, as representative of the Board of Directors, presented the keys and charter of the institution to Dr. Grose, who responded.

Choral benediction then was sung by the choir. Following this Bishop Francis John McConnell delivered the charge to Dr. Grose, who responded with his inaugural address: "The Task of Modern Education." Dr. Grose, in part, said:

"Mr. President, members of the Board of Trustees, Students and Alumni of DePauw university, ladies and gentlemen:—

"One can not fail to be impressed with the significance of an occasion which brings together the distinguished and representative assemblage. It has summoned here representatives of institutions of learning from all parts of our land, eminent servants of the church, prominent officials of public life and the alumni of this college of many years. The significance of this hour lies in the fact that it is an expression of our abiding faith in the value of learning. Three-quarters of a century ago the fathers dedicated this institution in the wilderness of the middle west to the advancement of knowledge and religion. When I recall the great names, and the lofty characters and the splendid achievements that have been built forever into its history, I can conceive of no effort worthier than to face the duties of our new day with a like devotion to the noble cause of Christian education."

"There are two facts in the educational world of the present day of absorbing interest. The first is a tidal wave of enthusiasm for popular education. A second notable fact is the general confusion which prevails as to the central aim and the fundamental purpose of education. Our educational aims are in a state of flux. The consequence is the 'educational world' is rife with discussion of the proper subjects of study, vocational training versus liberal culture, and the relative value of the sciences and the classics. A clear conception of the chief tasks of modern education will make mightily for a higher appreciation of learning, and will also contribute largely to energies of the human intellect. The thing of first importance is for a man to discover his mind, and then learn how to make full and productive use of his discovery."

Culture and Life.

"A second task of modern education is to relate culture to life. While knowledge is its own exceeding great reward, beyond itself it has a greater reward. While learning brings rich satisfactions to life, beyond these there are noble ends of life, which learning may serve. The glory of a rich strong personality produced by broad culture is in high uses of life. The institutions of learning are performing an inestimable service in the raising up of a generation of men and women with cultivated imagination, with an appreciation of literature and art, with keen powers of observation and with the joy of intellectual exercise. But beyond and above this education has a more serious purpose. It must serve all the intelligent ends of living. Life must be made our understanding of educational methods."

"There is no general agreement as to the ideals of higher education. What are we seeking to accomplish in the colleges and universities? What is to be the chief aim of a liberal culture? Is the main business of the college to be an 'adjunct of the shop and the farm,' or is it to furnish men for worthwhile and heroic living? What is the supreme task of modern education?"

Intellectual Efficiency.

"The first task of every institution of learning is to train men for intellectual efficiency. The college is preeminently 'a place for the mind.' It is an intellectual drill-ground. Its various exercises and requirements have for their chief purpose the arousing and the development of the latest, safer, healthier, happier, more prosperous and more satisfying."

"The increasing interest in physical training in our institutions of learning is another expression of the growing conviction that the college must stand for an all-round, symmetrical development. The early traditional type of scholar, the scowling, spectacled don, is passing. There is a new valuation of health, a new enthusiasm for outdoor sport because physical vigor makes for finer ideals, new power for achievement and greater endurance."

A Living or a Life.

"The present day trend in education is strongly toward vocational culture. This tendency is in the right direction in so far as it seeks to relate all learnings to life, and to make knowledge purposeful. But the tendency is dangerous when its aim becomes coarsely materialistic, when it cares chiefly for skill for the sake of piling up wealth. It is highly important to fit a man for some specific industry or calling. It is a far greater thing to fit him for intelligent purposeful living of life. The first aim of the college is not at the livelihood but at the man. A skillful worker is not so valuable an asset in society as a strong man with a reserve of intellectual energy and a background of personality upon which everything he does may draw."

Education and Democracy.

"Further it is important that our educational effort should never lose sight of two distinct aims. The first is the training of the common man for citizenship and for doing the work of the world. The second is training the exceptional man for leadership."

Culture For Spiritual Uses.

"The third task of modern education is to dominate all culture with moral earnestness and with spiritual passion. If it is important to 'link learning with life,' it is quite as important that all culture should be consecrated to the spiritual uses of life. Men with superior training sometimes prostitute their abilities in promoting corrupt undertakings. To give a man a disciplined mind, and the power to lead and command without any fixed moral principles, without unswerving integrity, without a first devotion to good causes, is only to multiply the perils of civilization."

The Spirit of DePauw.

"Still another condition of the achievement of our task is the loyalty of the sons and daughters of the college. The richest heritage which DePauw university has received is in that spirit of ardent self-sacrificing devotion which has burned in the heart of teachers and alumni since 1837. And I dare believe that the spirit of old DePauw will meet the larger demands of today and tomorrow with professorships and scholarships, with books and apparatus that culture and true piety and public virtue may be multiplied."

The morning exercises were concluded by music by the University Choir and the benediction by Bishop John W. Walden.

Luncheon at Dorn.

At half past twelve o'clock the delegates, alumni and guests were the guests of the university at a luncheon at the ladies' hall.

At the afternoon meeting, which also was held in Meharry hall, President William Oxley Thompson of Ohio State university delivered an eloquent address, subject: "The Place of the Denominational College." The afternoon meeting was presided over by the Hon. Jay H. Neff of Kansas City. Bishop David Hastings Moore opened the meeting in prayer and the meeting was closed by the benediction by the Rev. William Howard Hickman.

Reception This Evening.

The events of the day will be closed with a reception this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O'Hair. The delegates, trustees, faculty and visiting alumni will be entertained from 4 to 6 o'clock. The faculty, students and resident alumni hours are from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

TO HOLD TEACHERS' EXAMS IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Hereafter County Superintendent Wright will hold his monthly teachers' examinations in the high school building instead of in the court house. The examination next Saturday morning will be held in the high school building and will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. O. M. Batman returned home Saturday from Bainbridge where she spent the week with her mother, Mrs. James Darnall.—Rockville Tribune.

Prof. J. P. Naylor left Wednesday evening for Washington where he will attend the meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Physics. He will be gone about a week.

President George R. Grose, of DePauw university, will deliver the commencement address before the graduating class of the Rockville high school on the evening of May 16.

W. G. Seaman, former member of the DePauw faculty, but now president of the Dakota Wesleyan university at Mitchell, S. D. was here to attend the inauguration of President Grose and is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Post.

Jim Houck came down from Indianapolis Wednesday to visit his mother, Mrs. Martha Houck, who is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lyons, on Bloomington street. Mrs. Houck, who has been very ill for several days, is slowly gaining strength and it is hoped that she soon will recover her former health.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Throop and baby of Greencastle came the week-end for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Wilton. Dr. Wilton, who is a brother of Mrs. Wilton, returned home Monday. Mrs. Throop and baby continuing their visit for the week.—Rev and Mrs. A. C. Northrop, son Albert and daughter Lois, of Williamsport, Ind., arrived in their touring car this morning and are guests of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred S. Warriner. The Revs. Northrop and Warriner will auto to Greencastle Wednesday to attend the inauguration of Dr. George R. Grose as president of DePauw university.—Rockville Tribune.

A special from Ladoga says: "A number of citizens were made quite sick the latter part of last week, by eating cheese which was purchased of one of the local grocery stores. The cheese had just been brought in and was thought to be perfectly fresh, but resulted in causing ptomaine poisoning. The cheese will be inspected by pure food inspectors. Those who were ill were: Mrs. F. M. Stoudt, Miss Ruby Boutson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carman, Mrs. Dr. J. G. Heighway and sons, George and Herman, Mr. T. J. Vennard, Thurston, Brewer and family, Mrs. S. V. Hayes and daughter, A. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alford and daughter, and Dick Gill."

HANDS CRACKING AND BLEEDING

With Eczema. Watery Blisters. Disfigured and Sore. Could Not Put Them in Water. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

St. Clair, Mo.—"My trouble began about fifteen years ago. It was what some claimed eczema. The form the disease worked under was a breaking out with watery blisters on my hands which would then dry and scale, and then would follow the trouble of cracking and bleeding, also itching and burning. My hands were disfigured at the time, and sore. The trouble was very annoying, and disturbed my sleep. This last February it was ever so much worse than before. I did not do all my work on account of the condition of my hands. I could not put them in water without making them worse. I tried a lot of home remedies, also salves and liniments that claimed to be a cure for the trouble, but I did not obtain a cure.

"At last I saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a sample. I thought they would cure, so I sent for a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap. A doctor advised me to keep ahead with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they cured me completely. No trace of the trouble remains." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mar. 29, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

CATHOLIC MISSION AT GREENCASTLE

The Indiana Catholic has the following write-up of the mission held at St. Paul's Catholic church here recently:

"A most successful mission at St. Paul's church here was brought to a close Sunday evening the papal benediction being given according to the Passionist Congregation ritual by raising the cross the faithful.

"The mission, which was the most successful in the history of this parish was conducted by Rev. Father Ignatius Conroy of the Passionist Order. The reverend father, who has had much experience in the missionary field, won at once the attention and sympathy of the Catholics attending the mission. His eloquent discourses were eminently practical and their results were apparent from the very first sermon. The mission began on Sunday, April 6, and the reverend pastor, Father Maher, was gratified at the attendance. The first care of the missionary was devoted to the children of the parish. These later showed great interest and manifested great devotion to the blessed Eucharist on the general communion day. The little ones were also most assiduous day after day in making the Way of the Cross, going from station to station like grown-up people. Indeed, it may well be said that one of the market fruits of the mission is an increased devotion in the young to the Passion of the Savior. Any day during the mission numbers of the faithful might be seen in the church following Christ in meditation along the sorrowful way that leads to Calvary.

"The weather Sunday, the opening day of the mission, was fine and a good number attended the spiritual exercises of the mission. All the rest of the week was remarkably wet and unpleasant. The order of the faithful did not grow cool, and the missionary had the pleasure of seeing the Catholics coming in numbers through muddy streets in the wind and rain to mass each morning and to the evening instructions.

"In the middle of the week the communion began. Great numbers received daily during the remainder of the week and it must be said that the men, old and young, were conspicuous in the crowd that approached the holy table. The Catholics in Greencastle certainly showed their appreciation of the instructions given by the Rev. Father, who earnestly exhorted them to practice all their lives the two great devotions dear to the Catholic heart—the devotion to the passion—devotion to the Blessed Eucharist. There were over 400 communions during the mission.

"The Rev. Father Ignatius brings home to his hearers a thorough conviction with regard to the great truth of our holy religion. His style of speaking is clear and forcible. The people are touched by his discourses because they understand them. Although at times there are real flights of oratory, this good

CASE OF LADOGA CANNING AGAINST THE BAINBRIDGE CANNING CONCERN ON TRIAL

The case of the Ladoga Canning company against the Bainbridge Canning company was called for trial in the circuit court on Monday. Much trouble was experienced in obtaining a jury. It was 2:30 o'clock this afternoon before both sides had passed on the jury. The first witness was then called and the trial commenced. It probably will be the latter part of the week before the case is finished.

The complaint, which was answered by a cross-complaint filed by the Bainbridge company alleges that the Bainbridge company is indebted to the Ladoga company in the sum of $500. The amount, it is said, was paid to the Bainbridge company for canned goods. Before accepting the goods, however, it was discovered that they, or at least part of them, were spoiled. It is averred. The Ladoga company refused to take the goods and sued to recover the $500.

On the other hand, the Bainbridge company alleges that the Ladoga company failed to carry out its contract, and asks a judgment in the sum of $150, the amount still due on the contract. Muter Bachelder of Indianapolis, and Lyons & Peck represent the Ladoga company, while Allee & James are the attorneys for the Bainbridge concern.

The jurors hearing the case are as follows: Benjamin King, Greencastle; James Webster, Greencastle township; George Starr, Bainbridge; Thomas Havens, Marion township; Elijah Houck, Greencastle; Milton Day, Fillmore; George Whitaker, Putnamville; Frank Farmer, Greencastle township; Samuel Hubbard Marion township; Charles Siddons, Greencastle; Link McCamack, Cloverdale; Charles Hood, Cloverdale.

Change of Pay Days.

At a meeting of Byron Cassell, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Monon. H. T. Evans, auditor, A. S. Kent, chief engineer; Superintendent of Motive Power H. C. May; J. Henry Leibenthal, chief clerk to Mr. Kent, and Mr. Eskridge, chief clerk to Superintendent McManus, Friday afternoon in the office of Mr. McManus in Lafayette, it was decided that beginning next month the Monon will pay on the tenth and twenty-fifth of each month. This change is made to conform with the new state law. The employees will be paid Monday for work done in March, and on May 10 they will be paid for the work performed in April.

DR. GROSE DELEGATE TO PEACE CONFERENCE

Governor Ralston yesterday appointed ten delegates to represent Indiana at the fourth American Peace Conference to be held May 1, 2 and 3 at St. Louis. The dedication of the Jefferson Memorial, erected at a cost of $500,000, will be held on the day before the opening of the conference. The delegates named by the Governor are Col. W. T. Durbin, Anderson; Albert J. Beveridge, Indianapolis; President Grose, of DePauw University, Greencastle; Milton Bell, Kokomo; the Rev. W. O. Trueblood, Indianapolis; Amos Hershey of Indiana University, Bloomington; Meredith Nicholson, Indianapolis; William C. Broom, Fort Wayne, and John Kendall, Mooresville.

Woltz Hints Bribery.

William Woltz, who is alleged to be involved in a deal to sell 320 acres of "blue sky" land in White County, Arkansas, to Henry F. Meyer of Greencastle, for Meyer's saw mill, and who "jumped" a professional bond of $250 several weeks ago and left the city, told Judge Collins yesterday in Police Court that two men had given him $10 and persuaded him to leave. Detective Radmacher and Asch found he had returned and arrested him. The grand jury is investigating the case, and other men yet unnamed are said to be involved with Woltz. Woltz's case was continued in Police Court to allow the defendant to bring into court an abstract of the Arkansas land he claims to own.—Indianapolis Star.

Mrs. Fannie Walls is nursing Mrs. Sylvester O'Hair, who lives north of town, and who is seriously ill.

THE REPUBLICANS STILL WANT OFFICE

Twenty-eight presidential nominations for postmasterships in Indiana will be jeopardized by a plan which is being matured among Republican senators to hold up certain nominations of President Wilson. By a coincidence just 28 Republican United Senators have enlisted in this undertaking.

The plan does not propose to block all of the nominations of Mr. Wilson, but only those that are sent in to fill offices for which appointments were made by President Taft during the last year of his term. The new campaign of warfare is a retaliation for the action of Democratic senators in refusing to permit the Taft nominations to be confirmed.

Unless a change is made in the plan of the Republican senators these 28 Indiana Taft nominees will be re-neged on account of being kept out of the jobs to which it is held they were entitled under the ordinary rules of the patronage game.

A. G. Coffman was the Republican appointee for the Roachdale office, one of the appointments over which the Republicans are attempting to start a fight in the Senate. President Taft, knowing he would be defeated last November, attempted to fill all the offices in order that they would be filled by Republicans during the administration of President Wilson. The Democratic senators refused to let Mr. Taft's little political scheme succeed, however.

Fred Rice is Congressman Moss' choice for the Roachdale office and Mr. Rice no doubt will commence his new duties next month.

Eckles Denies He Shot Parrish.

For a while last Friday it looked as though the assault and battery with intent to murder case against Howard Eckles, of Knightsville, would again be postponed. When the case was called that morning Eckles announced that he and his attorneys could not agree and asked that he be allowed to defend himself. After an hour or more of delay, Eckles and his attorneys, Hays & Murphy, came to an agreement and the trial commenced.

Eckles, who is about 70 years old, is a member of the bar, but has not practiced law for many years. His father, the late Judge Eckles, was judge of the circuit to which the Putnam court belonged many years ago. Later he was appointed judge of the territorial district which included New Mexico, Arizona and Texas then territories.

George Parrish, who, it is alleged, was shot by Eckles was the first witness on the stand. He told of business dealing with Eckles and Howard Adamson on the morning of November 19, last. Eckles and Parrish were standing beside a gate, one on each side, when they overreared over the ownership of some hay. Eckles called Parrish a liar, it was alleged, whereupon Parrish retaliated in similar language.

At this juncture, Parrish averred, Eckles grabbed a single barreled shotgun from his buggy and fired. The shot grazed Parrish's left temple and cut away a lock of his hair. Parrish said he was stunned by the shot and fell to the ground. When he started to get up, he says, Eckles leaned over the gate and struck him over the head with the end of the gun.

Parrish crawled through a hole in the gate and grasped Eckles, who was trying to get a new shell into the gun. Parrish said he threw Eckles and pummelled him until he promised to refrain from using the gun again. After giving Eckles his liberty, Parrish said, Eckles got into his buggy and drove away. Parrish then told of having the cuts on his head dressed and of coming here later in the day and filing the affidavit against Eckles.

Howard Eckles, of Knightsville, was placed on the witness stand last Saturday to defend himself against the charge of assault and battery with intent to murder on George Parrish, of Washington township, this county. Eckles told an altogether different story from that of Parrish and Parrish's witnesses. In regard to the gun shot, which Parrish said was fired at him and which he said hit him, Eckles denied the charge. He said that the firing of the gun was accidental.

When Eckles was placed on the stand he corroborated that part of Parrish's testimony dealing with the incidents which occurred prior to the shooting.

The gun was in the front part of Eckles' buggy, Eckles said and was partly covered with lap robes. When he started to get into the rig, Eckles said, he pulled the robes from over the gun, and when he pulled one of the robes the shell in the gun exploded. He said that he supposed a portion of the robe caught around the hammer of the gun, pulling it back and then allowing it to strike the shell.

Eckles said that when the shot was fired Parrish exclaimed, "I'll kill you now," and, grasping a club, started toward him. Parrish started to climb a bank to get to him, Eckles said, and to defend him he pushed Parrish back down the embankment.

Eckles said that he then climbed into his buggy, but that Parrish again attacked him. At this juncture of the fight, Eckles said, he struck Parrish over the head with the gun. He struck the blow, he said, to prevent Parrish from striking him with a rock.

Parrish, however, struck him with the rock, according to Eckles' testimony and knocked him down. Eckles said that after he had been knocked down Parrish beat and choked him. The two were still fighting for the possession of the gun. Eckles testified that, seeing his adversary was overpowering him, he gave up his hold on the gun and threw himself to the mercy of Parrish. Parrish then released him and the fight was ended.

The evidence was concluded shortly before noon and Judge Hughes announced that he would fine Eckles $25 and costs. Judge Hughes found Eckles guilty of assault and battery, but not guilty of attempted murder. Eckles paid the fine. Those who testified during the trial were George Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Martin, Ross James, Theodore James, Mr. and Mrs. Claude James, Dr. H. G. Thorton, Howard Eckles, Oliver Wilkins, L. K. Girton, H. Harris, John Young and Dennis Eckles. W. B. Vestal, Lawrence Athey and W. P. Sackett, all of this city, testified as to Eckles' character.

Mrs. Rudy Burkitt has gone to Watseka, Ill., for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harley Davis.

There is talk among the downtown merchants of circulating a petition among the business men to oil the down town streets. The council, at its meeting Tuesday night, gave permission to all citizens to oil the streets and the merchants probably will take advantage of the permit.

Women of Middle Age

From 40 to 50 Woman's Critical Period.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, severe headaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularity, constipation and dizziness are promptly treated by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life.

This is the most critical period of woman's life and she who neglects the care of her health at this time invites incurable disease and pain. Why not be guided by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is an indisputable fact that this grand old remedy has helped thousands of women to pass through this trying period with comfort and safety. Thousands of genuine and honest testimonials support this fact.

From Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, Cadiz, Ohio.

Fort Worth, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and derived great benefit from its use. It carried me safely through the Change of Life when I was in bad health. I had that all gone feeling most of the time, and headache constantly. I was very nervous and the hot flashes were very bad. I had tried other remedies and doctors, but did not improve until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has now been sometime since I took the Compound and I have had no return of my old complaints. I always praise your remedies to weak women."—Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, R. F. D. No. 5, Cadiz, Ohio.

From Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do.

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong, well woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice, and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

From Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

Munford, Ala.—"I was so weak and nervous while passing through the Change of Life that I could hardly live. My husband had to nail rubber on all the gates for I could not stand to have a gate slam.

"I also had backache and a fullness in my stomach. I noticed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was advertised for such cases and I sent and got a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and found it to be all you claim. I recommend it to all women afflicted as I was."—Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL RECEPTION

The annual reception of the juniors in honor of the seniors of the Greencastle high school, was held Thursday night in the Ben-Hur reception rooms. Both classes were well represented and many of the teachers and school board members were there. During the earlier part of the evening the guests were entertained by a bright and lively farce entitled "My Wife's Bonnet." The parts were well chosen and played by the cast which was as follows:

Mrs. Topknot ..... Lois Shouse
Mr. Topknot ..... Walton Raines
Mrs. Cutwater ..... Ruth Fraley
Mr. Cutwater ..... Lawrence Crump
Mrs. Appleby ..... Jeanette Holloway
Mr. Alfred Jones ..... Herald Jones

A parody on a popular song was sung by Lucy Johnson, Lota Williamson, Vera Kroff, Lou Pollard and Lucy Johnson. Several "slams" on prominent members of the senior class and faculty were appreciated. The verses were composed of the junior girls. Herbert Landes, Lloyd Skinner and Miss Ruth Fraley gave some excellent music with cornet, violin and piano. For the remainder of the evening a general good time was enjoyed. Punch was served throughout the evening and light refreshments of ice cream and cake.

HUGHES RULES FOR HUTCHISON.

Judge James Hughes in the Putnam Circuit court Thursday, ruled in favor of Attorney T. W. Hutchison, of Brazil, in the action brought by Attorney Henry W. Moore, of the Vandalla Coal company to disbar the Brazil attorney from acting as the plaintiff's attorney in the suit of Agnes Elliott against the Vandalla Coal company.

When the case came up in the Putnam Circuit court some time ago, Attorney Moore filed a motion to have Attorney Hutchison disbarred from acting as the plaintiff's attorney on the grounds that he had been employed by the Vandalla Coal company in similar suits and was acquainted with the company's plan of defense.

Attorney Hutchison filed a reply denying the charges made by Attorney Moore and Judge Hughes Thursday morning sustained Hutchison's position and overruled Moore's motion. Judge Hughes ruled that there was no connection between the cases; that both parties were acquainted with the fact that Hutchison had been employed on both sides in similar cases and that therefore there was no violation of confidence. He further held that the company had no right to object for the reason that they had permitted Attorney Hutchison to act as Mrs. Elliott's attorney for more than a year without offering any objection.

Mr. Hutchison was employed by the Vandalla Coal company to assist in the defense of some suits similar to that of the Elliott case and arising out of the alleged failure of the company to take out minable coal at its mine near Asherville, but it is claimed that each case is distinct and entirely different for the reason that the point to be proved is whether there is any minable coal under the plaintiff's land.

A WEDDING CULMINATES DePAUW COLLEGE ROMANCE

The culmination of a DePauw romance occurred at 10 o'clock Sunday morning when Miss Emma Small, who lives on Hanna street, was united in matrimony with Rex Trabue, of Hinsdale, a suburb of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Trabue met while freshmen in DePauw university. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Trabue, pastor of the Kemp M. E. Church at Tipton and father of the groom. Only a few immediate relatives were present.

Mr. Trabue attended DePauw for one year, then going to the Northwestern university and graduating in 1911. He took honors at Northwestern and was made a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity. His bride was graduated from DePauw in 1911.

During the past year Mrs. Trabue was a teacher in the high school at Shelby, Mr. Trabue is principal of the high school at Hinsdale. Mr. and Mrs. Trabue left Sunday afternoon for Hinsdale, where they will remain until the school of which Mr. Trabue has charge is dismissed for the summer vacation. Next fall they will go to New York. Mr. Trabue has a fellowship in Columbia university.

ENTERTAIN TWENTY-TWO GUESTS AT DINNER.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Post most delightfully entertained twenty-two guests at a five-course dinner Wednesday evening. The dinner was served on a long table extending from the dining room into the living room and was tastefully decorated. The decorations consisted of pink candles, pink carnations and wreaths of smilax. The dinner was beautifully served by Mrs. Post, assisted by her daughter, Miss Ruth Post, and Miss Alice Hamilton.

The guests were President and Mrs. George R. Grose, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Gobin, Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Towne, Professor and Mrs. H. B. Longdon, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hays Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Corwin, Rev. and Mrs. Demetrius Tillotson, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Gilmore, Col. and Mrs. J. R. Weaver, Mrs. E. B. Doll and Miss Post, of Philadelphia, a sister of Dr. Post.

A SIZED CONTRACTOR IS DEAD.

Henry Clements, aged 70, died at his home, 907 east Market street, at a few minutes before midnight Tuesday. He had been ill for nearly two years but his condition had not been serious for only about a month. Mr. Clements was born in Ireland in November, 1842. He came to this country in 1886 and later in the same year came to this city. He was a contractor and in the early days built many of the first roads in this county. Mr. Clements is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Clements, and five children. Harry Clements, of Cleveland, O., Mrs. Jennie Dodds, of Greencastle, and Frank, John and Charles Clements, residing in this city. Funeral services will be held from the late home at two-thirty Thursday afternoon and will be in charge of Rev. G. L. Stine, pastor of the First United Brethren church. Interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.—Crawfordsville Journal.

WORK ON CLAY COUNTY COURT HOUSE DELAYED.

Superintendent Koerner today cancelled the order with the steel company which has been supplying the steel work on the new court house for the remainder of the structural iron, and the supply will be gained from another source.

Superintendent Koerner is not mild in his condemnation of the steel company for he says that other orders put in after the local one are being supplied and it is likely that a suit will be filed to recover damages caused by the delay.

Mr. Koerner said that had the steel arrived on or near scheduled time that the building would be being plastered now instead of in the shape it is in. The walls have been erected to the top of the third story and here the work was halted because of the failure of the structural steel to arrive. The building is now a huge shell, with a little steel work on the interior. The construction company is growing very impatient because of the failure of the steel work to arrive and are now arranging to procure the steel work elsewhere.—Brazil Times.

PULLS MINISTER INTO RIVER.

Frightened Horse Jumps From Ferry With Dr. G. W. Switzer.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 17.—Dr. George W. Switzer, a former minister, and one of the best known men in the state, was thrown into the Wabash River here today, when his horse jumped from the ferry boat and narrowly escaped drowning. The animal Dr. Switzer was driving became frightened at the motion of the boat and lunged off the front end of the ferry, carrying the buggy and driver with it. The boat was just leaving the bank and Capt. John Kluth of the local police force, who was near at hand, dived head first into the icy water and went to Dr. Switzer's assistance. The horse was rescued by means of ropes. Dr. Switzer was formerly presiding elder of the Lafayette district of the Methodist church and is one of the trustees of the Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis.

Dr. Switzer is well-known here.

MISS MARY E. MOREY WAS MARRIED MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Miss Mary Morey, who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Landes, and Thomas R. Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio, were married by Rev. L. A. Beard, at the Christian church parsonage at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Miss Morey has made many friends since she came to Greencastle and is quite popular. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home in Cleveland.

Mick Will Case Venued to Boone.

The Lebanon Pioneer says: "Judging from the mass of papers accompanying the complaint, one of the biggest suits ever venued here from Marion county was docketed Wednesday. The plaintiff is Florence M. Robinson, and the defendants are Lena L. Brooks and others, including four trust companies and DePauw University. It required two large-sized jackets to hold the papers that came with the complaint.

"The suit is brought to set aside the will of William E. Mick, a well-known real estate dealer of Indianapolis, who died May 7, 1912. The plaintiff is a daughter, and she alleges that she and the defendants, Lena L. Mick, are the only children and heirs at law of the testator. The day following Mr. Mick's death a writing, dated March 27, 1912, and purporting to be his will, was admitted to probate in Marion county, and the Marion Trust Company qualified as executor. The plaintiff sets out that the will names Lena L. Brooks, Mattie M. Bew, Edward L. Mick, William E. Mick, Jr., Mary F. Mick, Estelle Sargent, and Ida Cude as devisees and legatees to various interests in the property of the estate, of the probable value of $100,000, to the exclusion of the plaintiff, except for a life interest in the estate.

"The Marion Trust Company is made a party defendant for the reason that in addition to being named as executor, it is also named as trustee for certain purposes, and is to hold much of the property of the estate for the purposes set out in the alleged will.

"DePauw University is also made a party defendant for the reason that by the terms of the will it is to hold in perpetual trust for certain purposes a part of the property disposed of by the will.

"The plaintiff alleges that she is entitled to an undivided one-third of all the property, subject only to the life estate of the surviving widow of Wm. E. Mick, deceased, and that the will is invalid for the reason that Wm. E. Mick was a person of unsound mind when he executed the will, and that the will was unduly executed.

"The will of Mr. Mick, set out in full in an answer to the complaint, makes specific bequests of small amounts of money to the widow, the children and a few relatives named. Item 10 provides that the entire estate, consisting largely of rental properties go to the Marion Trust Company, in trust, making certain provisions for the widow during her life or widowhood, and for the three daughters during their life time. The son has been provided for by substantial gifts during the life time of his father, therefore does not participate in the estate.

"After the provisions of the will have been carried out as it pertains to the widow and three daughters the entire estate is to go to the trustees of DePauw University, the proceeds to create what is to be known as the 'Wm. E. Mick Educational Fund,' and is to be loaned at 6 per cent. to ministerial students seeking an education."

CANDLE CAUSES AN EXPLOSION.

Barrel of Roof Paint Explodes in the Basement of Alonzo Cook Store.

The explosion of a barrel of roof paint in the cellar of the Alonzo Cook Drug store at about 7:30 o'clock this morning, badly burned Alger Leatherman, a clerk, and started a conflagration, which probably would have resulted disastrously had the fire department not promptly responded to an alarm.

Leatherman had gone to the cellar to draw a gallon of roof paint from the barrel, taking with him a lighted candle. He set the candle down by the barrel and turned on the faucet, when the explosion occurred.

Leatherman was badly bruised and burned and the burning paint was thrown around in the basement. Leatherman ran from the cellar and notified others to send in a fire alarm. The firemen were not long in getting to the scene, and with one stream of water soon extinguished the flames.

Sitting next to the paint barrel was a barrel of wood alcohol, while in other parts of the cellar were barrels of other highly inflammatory liquids. Had the fire gained sufficient headway to heat the barrels sufficiently to cause them to burst there is no doubt that a very disastrous fire would have resulted. The force of the explosion blew both ends out of the paint barrel.

Obituary.

Coras B. Sears Harriman was born near Reelsville October 14, 1889, and died of scarlet fever at her home in Brazil March 9, 1913; aged twenty-three, four months and twenty-five days. She was the daughter of Levi and Ellie Sears. She was married to Matthew Harriman April 11, 1909. To this union was born a daughter who died in infancy. She united with the Christian church at Antioch at the age of thirteen years and lived a Christian life afterward. She was a kind and loving wife. She was very fond of her home and home duties. She has gone home to receive her reward. She leaves a baby daughter, husband, father, one sister and three brothers and many other relatives to mourn her loss. She was laid to rest in the Reelsville cemetery to wait for the resurrection morning.

The marriage of Thomas McIntosh, oldest son of Mrs. Thos. McIntosh, of this town, and Miss Julia Elizabeth Kidder, of Chicago, occurred at the home of the bride's parents in Chicago, Saturday evening. The young couple will make their home in Chicago. Mrs. McIntosh and two sons, Bruce and Burns, were in Chicago to attend the wedding.

Putnam County Farmers' Club.

The next meeting of the club will be held next Saturday, April 26, at 2 o'clock in the public library. The time was changed back to 2 o'clock as the days are now longer. The library is a more quiet place for the meetings. The topic for the meeting will be "Corn." It is a very practical subject and will be treated by a very practical farmer, W. V. Torr. It will be a round table discussion and free talks on experiences in raising corn will be in order. The best farmers realize that they have somewhat yet to learn regarding the raising of corn and as it is the greatest crop on the farm, the discussion should interest many good farmers.

WHAT! BARROOMS IN DRY GREENCASLE

Clarence Patterson, arrested for loitering and disorderly conduct, is not a prophet in his own country according to the tone of a letter received from the chief of police of Greencastle, where he is said to have lived formerly.

Patterson was arrested and held on information received by bicycle men Englebright and Brady that he was wanted in Greencastle for seriously assaulting another man.

Chief Lemuel Johns, of Greencastle, wrote to Superintendent Hyatt and said Patterson did live there and was an habitual hanger-on in local barrooms, but was not wanted there for any serious offense.

"Glad to get rid of him," he said, "and hope you will give him what is coming to him."

"You can hang him if you want," is the final thrust of the letter of the Greencastle preserver of the peace.—Indianapolis News.

"BOB" ROBINSON DIES SATURDAY EVENING

James N. Robinson, better known as "Bob", who was taken to the city house last week died Saturday evening about 7 o'clock. The deceased was supposed to have been suffering from infantile paralysis but later diagnosis disclosed the fact that his death was caused by paratyphoid following an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken sick in his room over the rear of Zeig's cery.

Robinson was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having served as bugler in Company E, 24th Infantry. He enlisted on June 18, 1898, and was discharged at Ft. Russell, Wyoming, February 6, 1899. Robinson had lived here for several years and had a wife living in Indianapolis.

The funeral services were held at the colored Baptist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon; burial in Forest Hill cemetery.

Miss Maude Biddle and Miss Edna Rice Day and Ira Hanks and Mrs. Lewis have returned home after spending a few days at Crawfordsville.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS

TAXES ARE HIGHER THIS YEAR!

Many will question the amount of their taxes and ask concerning their personal property assessments and land appraisalment. Mistakes will occur where the assessment of property and the extending and collecting of taxes are done by as many different officers.

The Treasurer and Auditor will cheerfully correct all mistakes for which they are responsible and the county assessor will explain the assessment of personal property and where possible adjust it in error.

Taxes are due Jan. 1 and payable at this office in full, or at the option of the taxpayer, one-half including road taxes, on or before the first Monday in May, 1913 (being fifth day) and the remaining one-half on or before the first Monday in November, 1913. Road tax receipts must be presented on or before the first Monday in May or they will not be credited, as the law requires that the Road tax be included in the first installment only.

If the first installment of taxes is not paid within the limit set by law, the taxes for the entire year become due and delinquent and with penalty as extended by the Auditor and charged to the Treasurer. The state is interested in this extension and the Auditor and Treasurer are both personally liable for any penalties that might be refunded.

Under no circumstances can the Treasurer alter the duplicate. He can make no reduction in taxes and he can not refund money once paid. Errors must be corrected through the Auditor's office.

As the Treasurer can not know the location of each person's property, tax payers should designate the property on which they wish to pay and see that all property is included in their receipt. If they have land in more than one township or corporation, or desire to pay taxes on lands or lots not in their name, call the Treasurer's attention to the matter, carefully examine receipts, see if they describe all property (personal and real) and are otherwise correct before leaving the office, and if any errors are evident have them corrected at once.

The Tax Duplicate is not a transfer book and when, for any year, the Tax Duplicate is made with reference to the property on the first day of March or said year, the duplicate remains forever unchanged as to showing of property and in whose names, changes on the transfer books or prompt recording of deeds to the contrary notwithstanding.

Property will appear in same name for the payment of the second installment. Assignees, Guardians, Administrators and others who pay taxes on property in trust, and persons whose taxes are complicated, such as undivided estates, etc., are earnestly requested to settle and pay taxes before the last few days, as it requires considerable time to make divisions and separate receipts. Thus avoid mistakes which might happen during the rush of the last few days of taxpaying.

All property, both Real and Personal, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes, penalties, interest and cost charged to the owner thereof in such county, and no partial payment of any such taxes, penalties, interest or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid, which lien shall in no wise be effected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property, and shall attach on the first day of April, annually, for the taxes of such year.—From Section 173, Acts 1891.

All Ditch Taxes and Street Improvements must be called for separately.

The taxpayer often has personal property and poll assessed to him separately from his real estate especially when the land is in joint title, and accordingly must have a receipt therefor.

Delinquent taxes must be paid before the current tax.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for penalties and charges on delinquent taxes, resulting from omission of the person paying such tax to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Very Respectfully,
ARTHUR L. REAT,
Treasurer Putnam County.

WORDS FROM HOME. Statements That May Be Investigated—Testimony of Greencastle Citizens.

When a Greencastle citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Greencastle resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

William M. Watkin, carpenter, 421 E. Washington St., Greencastle, Ind., says: "A number of years ago I was in a railroad wreck and my back and kidneys were injured. After that I suffered from pains in my loins and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage causing me annoyance. I tried different remedies and treatments, but was not relieved until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and I was soon relieved. I have no objection to my name being used in the local papers recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Too much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is a favorite with the mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by all dealers.

Notice of Administration.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the Judge of the Circuit Court of Putnam County, State of Indiana, Administrator of the estate of Oscar W. Sutherland, late of Putnam County, Indiana, deceased.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

Notice of Sale of Road Bonds.

Notice is hereby given that the Treasurer of Putnam county will offer for sale at his office in the court house in Greencastle, Ind., until sold the following road bonds:

The C. L. Brackney et al road in Monroe Township, Putnam County, Indiana. Twenty bonds of $162.00 each making a total issue of $3240.00. The bonds are dated May 5, 1913. The first bonds and first series of interest coupons will be due May 15th, 1914. Rates of interest, 4 1/2 per cent.

Also the J. F. Gillespie, et al road in Greencastle Township, Putnam County, Indiana. Twenty bonds of $499.00, each making a total issue of $9980.00. Dated May 5th, 1913. The first bond and interest coupons are due May 15, 1914. Rate of interest 4 1/2 per cent.

The above bonds are payable at office of Treasurer of Putnam county in his office in Putnam County Court House. Sealed bids accepted until 12 o'clock Monday, May 5th.

AUTO DEMOLISHED BY MONON TRAIN.

The new Ford roadster, owned by Ed Black, was totally demolished at about 11 o'clock on Monday when it was struck by a Monon freight train at the railroad crossing northeast of town. Mr. Black, who had been driving the car, stood by and watched the train crash into his car and reduce it to a pile of junk.

When Mr. Black, who was driving northeast on the Crow road, attempted to cross the railroad crossing his engine went dead. He got out of his machine and was attempting to "crank" it when he saw the freight train approaching.

Taking no chances of personal injuries Mr. Black abandoned his car and watched the train hit. The car was a new one.

ATTORNEY HACKNEY AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

Husband of Former Filmore Girl Is Charged With Embezzlement.

The Indianapolis Star has the following concerning Oliver A. Hackney, who, about a year ago, married a Filmore girl. The wedding took place in this city. Later Mrs. Hackney obtained a divorce. The Star says:

"Two members of the Marion County bar were arrested yesterday following serious charges placed against them. Oliver A. Hackney, a young lawyer, who has figured twice in the divorce courts, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kuechler charged with embezzlement. H. A. Bixby, an attorney residing east of the city, was arrested by Prosecutor Frank P. Baker. Deputy Prosecutor Earl Cox and Humane Inspector Oscar Merrill, charged with neglecting his children. Hackney gave bond for $1,000 and Bixby's bond was fixed at $500.

Hackney's arrest was on a grand jury indictment which followed a dispute about an amount due John Froh, 1218 Evison street, who obtained a judgment for $500 in a damage suit tried at Martinsville, Ind., recently. Hackney is said to have failed to give Froh $250, his alleged share of the judgment.

Hackney says that he holds a contract with Froh for a fee equal to one-half the amount recovered. The settlement he offered Froh was $212. He gave him the money and refused to be allowed that the judgment was for $500 and Hackney accepted $297 in settlement. Who should stand the loss of the $75 is said to be the dispute.

Rev. B. D. Johnson, formerly of Greencastle, superintendent of the Indiana State Civic Union, one of the busiest men in the work of civic righteousness in Indiana, was a welcome visitor at Coatesville last Sunday. Although Mr. Johnson's time is fully taken up in the larger cities of the state, a combination of circumstances permitted his presence here on the day mentioned. He addressed a fair-sized audience at the Baptist church in the afternoon, telling of the work of the union in the passage of laws for the betterment of conditions among women enslaved in houses of prostitution, and other social evils. He was the guest while here of Rev. Frank Brown.—Coatesville Herald.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned commissioner appointed in an action for partition in the Putnam Circuit Court, wherein Lowell L. Anderson et al and Henry E. Cox et al are defendants, cause No. 8408 for partition of certain real estate therein described, to sell the real estate described in the complaint in said cause, said commissioner, on the 26th day of April, 1913, will offer for sale to highest and best bidder the following described real estate, in Putnam County, Indiana, to-wit:

The south half of the southeast quarter of Section (25) Township (15) North of Range (4) West.

Terms of Sale—One-third cash in hand, one-third in six months and one-third in one year from date, purchaser to give notes secured by mortgage on the real estate sold, said notes to bear interest at 6 per cent. from date and attorney fees, waiving valuation or appraisement laws.

LOCAL COURTS' DECISION REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT.

The verdict in the case of Hadley and others against the Big Four which was appealed to the Appellate Court and then transferred to the Supreme Court, has been reversed. The judgment was for $1,000 and costs for alleged damages caused when the railroad built its new right-of-way. The case was filed in Danville and venue to the Putnam County Court.

The Supreme court's ruling follows:

ABSTRACTS AND ACTIONS. —Railroads—Right of Way—Deepening—Cut—

22094. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company vs. Hadley, Putnam C. C. Reversed. Cox, J. (1) A motion to file a supplemental complaint need not be in writing, an oral motion is sufficient. (2) Where an action was brought for a continuing trespass (lowering grade of railroad) it was not error for the court to allow a supplemental complaint to be filed after plaintiffs had introduced some evidence, nor was it error to refuse to set aside the submission. (3) Where a railroad right of way was acquired in 1869 and according to law the railroad filed a profile for construction before building the road, showing a cut of fifteen feet, it could thereafter in improving its road lower the cut to thirty feet without liability for a new taking. "Where there is no stipulation or agreement as to the manner of construction the rule is that the condemning party will acquire the right to construct its work in any way it pleases, which is not negligent or unlawful, and which does not violate the rights of adjacent owners" and may thereafter improve the same accordingly. The profile in no way controlled the condemnation. (4) "In the absence of any limitations by statute or the condemnation proceedings a railroad company, although it takes only an easement, acquired by the appropriation, the absolute right to take so much earth and materials within the width and length of the right of way as it may be necessary or convenient to remove in constructing and repairing its roadbed and use it at other points." (5) The land owner had no claim for damages for the failure of his well after the construction of the deep cut. The railroad had a right to deepen the cut under the 1869 condemnation and also under the condemnation for increased width in 1906, the increased depth of the cut was contemplated in the payment of damages.

MISS JEAN STROUBE'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Jean Stroube, the eldest daughter of former sheriff F. M. Stroube, to Donald E. Weist, of Indianapolis, was announced at a wedding supper at the Halfway house at Mt. Meridian Monday night. The wedding will occur early next fall. Mr. Weist is connected with the Pres-to-lite company of Indianapolis.

The supper was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Johnson, whose wedding occurred Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left this afternoon for their future home in Cleveland, Ohio.

The guests at the supper were Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Landes, Raymond Fry, Miss Ruth Stroube, Donald Weist, Miss Jean Stroube and Miss Helen Morey.

The death of William Callahan for fifty years a resident of Limesdale and Greencastle, occurred at his home near the Big Four Mills, Tuesday night following a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Callahan, who was 75 years old, leaves a widow and two sons, Thomas Callahan of Louisville, and James Callahan of this town. For many years Mr. Callahan had been flagman at the Jackson street crossing. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

A special from Ladoga has the following concerning Homer Gray: "While Homer Graybill was at work on Saturday repairing a windmill on his farm near this place, the lever which is used to hold the machine out of gear was accidentally released allowing it to strike him a tremendous blow just over his left eye. An ugly gash was the result. It took three stitches for the physician to unite the wound. The victim was also rendered semiconscious for a short time. Had the end of the lever struck him a half inch lower his left eye would have paid the penalty."
